

A Sketchbook Pathway 3: Let Go Of Expectations & Let Things Collide

<< Back to The Sketchbook Pathway <<

"Where do ideas come from? From looking at one thing and seeing another." - Saul Bass, Designer

Creativity happens when elements collide, and we are given time and space to play with those elements. Let sketchbooks encourage you to blur lines between subject areas.

Everything is up for grabs: the whole world can be filtered through us into our sketchbooks. Encourage pupils to think like a polymath rather than a one-subject specialist.

The more you give space to a variety of ideas and experiences, the more dynamic and exciting the sketchbook will become. Be brave and let go of the lead a little... Try exercises like these to encourage divergent thinking.

Making a Pocket Gallery

Anne Louise Quinton

See the Resource

Making a Washing Line Sketchbook

See the Resource

Making Wave Bowls

See the Resource

<< Back to The Sketchbook Pathway <<

>> Step 4: Celebrate the Individual Journey >>

This is a sample of a resource created by UK Charity AccessArt. We have over 1500 resources to help develop and inspire your creative thinking, practice and teaching.

AccessArt welcomes artists, educators, teachers and parents both in the UK and overseas.

We believe everyone has the right to be creative and by working together and sharing ideas we can enable everyone to reach their creative potential.