

Animating with a Green Screen

By Paula Briggs

As part of the How to Be A Creative Producer project, teenagers aged 12 and 13 have been working together to create a series of animations which will inspire other teenagers to take the leap and become creative producers, not just digital consumers.

This post shares the process behind the making of two clips, both of which used a green screen. The sessions used minimal equipment and we had no previous experience!

---

|          |   |   |
|----------|---|---|
|          | Please log in here to access full content. |   |
| Username | <input type="text"/>                              | <input type="text"/>                            |
| Password | <input type="password"/>                          | <input type="password"/>                        |
|          | <input type="button" value="Login"/>              | <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Remember me |

|  |                                 |
|--|---------------------------------|
|  | Forgot Password |
|--|---------------------------------|

To access all content, I would like to join as...

An Individual

Creative practitioners, educators, teachers, parents, learners...

From £3.50

An Organisation...

Schools, Colleges, Arts Organisations: Single and Multi-Users
From £42

AccessArt is a UK Charity and we believe everyone has the right to be creative. AccessArt provides inspiration to help us all reach our creative potential.

---