

Art Now: An APPG Survey into Art, Craft and Design Education Before, During and After the Pandemic

AccessArt is pleased to support the APPG Survey into Art, Craft and Design Education Before, During and After the Pandemic.

The All-Party Parliamentary Group for Art, Craft and Design (ACD) in Education are looking for educators of ACD in England, Scotland, Wales and Northern Ireland to complete a short survey (5-10 minutes) about teaching the subject. The survey is open to educators from all phases, Early Years to College, who teach ACD. You do not need to be a specialist, e.g. you could be a generalist primary teacher who teaches ACD.

The survey aims to assess the impact of ongoing policy changes on art and design provision; value given to our subject; teacher wellbeing and changes to continuing professional development (CPD).

The survey results will provide essential data that will contribute to a report by the APPG to the government. The evidence we collect will help us advocate for the value and importance of our subject by identifying the impact of government policies on the provision of art, craft and design, the value of our subject in differing settings and sectors, access to professional development, and teachers' wellbeing and workload.

Please follow the link to complete the survey: <https://nottingham.onlinesurveys.ac.uk/appg-acd-in-education-survey>. It will take around 5-10 minutes. All data is anonymous.

Best wishes,
AccessArt
