Sarah and John Gamble: Art School Ilkley

Sarah and John Gamble run Art School Ilkley, an independent art school based in Ilkley, West Yorkshire. Starting in 2016, John and Sarah now run ten classes a week, teaching across ages, from young artists to adults.

Sarah enjoyed her career working as an art specialist secondary school teacher and latterly as a lecturer in PGCE Art and Design.

She has a personal practice that centres around textiles, print and stitch. Sarah has had work exhibited nationally and continues to develop her practice whilst working on collaborative projects with other established artists.

John completed his MA in Creative Practice from Leeds Arts University. He knows the value of continuing education and providing space for people to engage with creativity.

His work is intuitive, responding to memory, soundscapes and place. He allows himself the joyful freedom to erase, obliterate, remove and then to repair, whilst slowly shifting the drawings focus.
