

CPD for Art Leads: Helping Teachers Help Teachers

Art CPD for Art Leads and Newly Qualified Teachers

We understand many art leads in Primary School are being asked to run training sessions for other staff, in drawing, painting, sculpture and printmaking. We also know that many art leads don't feel they have the skills needed to do this effectively.

We also know that many newly qualified teachers feel unprepared to teach art, so in response we have devised a whole package of support to help!

We will be running 4 sessions, one each around the 4 main subject areas of drawing, sculpture, painting and printmaking. Each session will introduce you to the area and provide activities and key resources from AccessArt which you can then use with your staff in a CPD in your school at a later date. The sessions will be a mixture of theory and practice, and no previous knowledge of the area is needed.

Additionally we will create a powerpoint for each session, to which participants will have full access, so no need to take notes or remember what was said. Even better, each session will be recorded and available for two months after the event for you to use as reference.

We really hope these friendly sessions will help you feel supported as art lead, and help develop your expertise and understanding so that you can share it with staff and build skills within the school. These sessions are designed as a starting point and you will then feel confident to build on your own understanding and practice over time.
