

Hester Berry

Hester berry

Having grown up in rural Devon, I have always been interested in landscape and the environment. My traditional university training in Aberystwyth nurtured this interest and also led me to explore life drawing and portraiture.

After continuing my studies to complete an MA in Fine Art in Wimbledon, I taught life drawing and painting in Brighton and London.

I have recently returned to Devon where I now live and work.

Website

See Resources Below...