

Inbal Leitner

Inbal Leitner is a Cambridge based illustrator. She loves drawing what she sees and inventing stories. In her studio, Inbal likes working with watercolours, pencils, collage, paints, pastels and mixing all of them together. She studied Animation in Bezalel Academy of Art, and worked as a classic animator. Few years later she graduated the illustration MA course at Cambridge school of art. Her picture book “The Longest Strongest Thread” was published this year by Scallywag Press. Inbal teaches Art and Storytelling to children and adults, exploring endless ways to tell and Draw stories.

She loves reading and spending time outdoors, especially with her Family and Friends.
