inbal leitner

Inbal Leitner is a Cambridge-based illustrator and lecturer in Illustration at Cambridge School of Art. She loves drawing what she sees and inventing stories. In her studio, Inbal likes working with watercolours, pencils, collage, paints, pastels and mixing all of them together. She studied Animation in Bezalel Academy of Art, and worked initially as a classic animator. A few years later she graduated from the MA Illustration course at Cambridge School of Art. Her picture book “The Longest Strongest Thread” was published this year by Scallywag Press. Inbal teaches Art and Storytelling to children and adults, exploring endless ways to tell and Draw stories.
