

Luca Damiani

Media Artist and an Associate Lecturer Graphic & Media Design

Luca M Damiani is a Media Artist and an Associate Lecturer Graphic & Media Design at the University of the Arts in London. Luca practices internationally in the fields of the Arts, Digital Media and Visual Culture. He works and experiments with creative techniques such as illustration, digital tech, animation, photography, coding and mix-media. His current research focus is on the role of arts&design in health, neuroscience and neuro-otology, also mainly based on an investigation of his hearing&balance disorders as well as related depression. Published artist-author of several books and academic articles, in his personal research and practice, Luca has also collaborated with many institutions and leading organisations, such as Computer Arts Society, Mozilla Foundation, VFX company Framestore, The Walt Disney Company, NGO Amnesty International, BBC, TATE, V&A, Hearing Health Foundation, British Medical Journal within Medical Humanities, etc.