

Rachel Scanlon

Rachel Scanlon

Rachel Scanlon graduated with a Fine Art degree from Staffordshire University followed by a Masters Degree in Scenography at the University of Central England where she began designing and making child height pop-up books, encompassing theatre design with her passion for inspiring children to use their imagination.

Rachel works as a freelance artist in various settings across the Midlands, from nursery to youth groups and schools, developing a wide range of artistic practices and enthusing a love of all things creative in others.

See Resources Below...