

Rowan: Making a Clay Bird from a Mould

The photos below were taken over several weekly visits to Rowan, Cambridge, where I was invited to document sessions led by Abi Moore and Sarah Nibbs in the ceramics room. The aim was to capture artist led facilitation in a setting for adults with learning disabilities and see the students' work progress over the course of a project.

Below, Abi and students describe how they made clay birds from a plaster mould.

By Abi Moore and Students at Rowan, Cambridge - photos by Sheila Ceccarelli (AccessArt)

Artist Abi Moore, one of the tutors in the ceramic room at Rowan, Cambridge

Below, students show how they made a collection of ceramic birds, from robins and dotterels to ducks using a plaster mould and coloured slip glazes to create individual and unique pieces.

Birds made with a mould by students at Rowan, Cambridge

	Please log in here to access full content.
Username		<input type="text"/>
Password		<input type="password"/>
	<input type="button" value="Login"/>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Remember me
	Forgot Password

To access all content, I would like to join as...

An Individual

Creative practitioners, educators, teachers, parents, learners...

From £3.50

An Organisation...

Schools, Colleges, Arts Organisations: Single and Multi-Users
From £42

AccessArt is a UK Charity and we believe everyone has the right to be creative. AccessArt provides inspiration to help us all reach our creative potential.
