

Who Do We Want To Be?

Which personality traits do we most value?

How can making art develop those traits?

We'd like to help learners and teachers understand how the resources on AccessArt can help develop not just art skills, but also help nurture personality traits which are valuable to life.

Please help us by telling us which personality traits you (or society) most value, as we move forward.